Providing intelligent legal solutions

The skills of a Huntingdon lawyer have been recognised by the UK's leading family law group – Resolution. Abby Smith, family lawyer at Leeds Day has recently gained Resolution accredited specialist status. Abby, who has been qualified for 5 years joined Leeds Day in January 2002.

Abby passed her examinations in complex financial matters and in children law to gain her specialist status under the Resolution scheme.

What is Accreditation?

Originally set up in 1999, the scheme is designed to help people who are facing family breakdown to make an informed choice when deciding which lawyer to appoint. By choosing a Resolution specialist, individuals can be assured that they are being advised by someone who has a wide knowledge and experience of family law and has the qualifications to demonstrate it.

To become a Resolution accredited specialist, lawyers have to agree to uphold the Resolution code of practice and to have passed a written exam demonstrating a breadth of knowledge of family law issues and specialist knowledge in at least two areas of family law.

Abby is the third lawyer at Leeds Day to achieve Resolution accreditation. This now means that Leeds Day is the only firm in Huntingdonshire to have all their family lawyers accredited as specialists in their field.

Tamara Glanvill and Simon Thomas are already accredited specialists in complex financial matters and Children Law and both are trained Collaborative lawyers.

Abby comments, “As a Resolution member, I am committed to encouraging a non-confrontational approach to resolving family disputes. That way, both the emotional and financial costs of divorce or family breakdown are minimised for all those involved.”
