INVESTOR IN PEOPLE

Personal injury

We put our clients' interests first and our reputation for quality has been built over more than a century of service to the community.

We guarantee you will keep 100% of any financial damages awarded to you, unlike some other providers of legal services. If you have been injured in the last three years our expert Personal Injury solicitors will advise on whether you can claim and help you claim the compensation to which you are entitled

Employment

The Leeds Day employment team specialise in all aspects of employment law. We regularly advise on contentious matters including wrongful and unfair dismissal, sex, race, age and disability discrimination, unlawful deductions from wages, redundancy and reorganisation, equal pay and treatment, confidential information, trade secrets and restrictive covenants (eg, non-competition, non-solicitation).

Civil litigation

If a dispute arises between you or your business and another it is essential that timely advice is received. Leeds Day recognise the importance of this advice and endeavour to provide a service to enable the dispute to be resolved either by mediation or other alternative dispute mechanism or, if that is not possible, through the courts.

Commercial

Corporate and commercial law, commercial and agricultural property are specialisms together with business litigation. The practice has a tradition of involvement in the community in which it is based and in all market sectors the firm is alive to the challenges and opportunities facing regional businesses

Wills and Probate

Our role is to protect family wealth and provide a confidential advice service on all family and Trust matters including the preparation of Wills, Inheritance and Tax Planning.

Residential Conveyancing

The Leeds Day Conveyancing Team is innovative in its approach to conveyancing transactions, fast and efficient with its use of ICT and utilises a firm wide case management system. In certain circumstances this includes posting transaction details to internet sites to allow clients to update themselves as the matter progresses.

Family law

The Family team at Leeds Day understand that Family and Matrimonial matters require more than just keen negotiating skills and technical excellence. We never lose sight of the real issues that are important to our clients and we work closely with our clients to achieve swift practical and wherever possible, amicable solutions. We recognise that maintaining amicable relationships is all important particularly where there are children involved.
